LW 2602455 Lost Property	was nudged by a firefighter on scene. The house was in poor condition (belongings and trash everywhere) and smelled of feces and urine. The crew member was concerned and asked if a Humane Officer could follow up. On February 2, 2026, officers along with animal control (AC) went to the address. Officers could hear a generator running and the front porch had large furniture items on it. Officers knocked on the door and were greeted by the male homeowner. He began to speak with officers informing them about why the generator was running. There was a strong odor of feces coming from the open door. It was causing the officers to feel sick to their stomach. Officers informed him they were not there for the generator, but to follow up on an animal complaint. The male became upset that AMR reported the possible neglect. He stated they were mean and that he would not be calling for them anymore. The male informed officers that the dog is old but not neglected. The dog was blind and ready to die according to the male. He stated he would not be taking the dog to be euthanized. He stated the dog eats and drinks. The male stated he was unable to cut the dogs hair because the dog would bite him. Officers asked consent for them and AC to enter the home and he agreed to let them. As officers reached the stoop, the odor of feces grew stronger. Officers met the male's girlfriend at the door. She informed officers and AC the dog had plenty of water and food. Officers explained the male gave them consent to enter and check on the dog. The girlfriend led the officers and AC to where the dog was laying stating it had plenty of food and water. Officers walked towards the dog and began to whistle to get the dog to lift its head, but it laid there. The girlfriend began to yell "Blacky", the dog's name, and the dog barely moved. Officers observed Blacky to be extremely matted. Blacky was turning gray from the dirt and filth piling on the matts. The matts appeared to be covering 75 percent or more of his body. Officers asked the owner if he understood what matting on a dog does, and he stated he knew. Matting can lead to extreme pain, skin infections, and hotspots. He then responded with Blacky doesn't have much longer anyways and that he is tired of people sticking their nose into his business. The male began to get verbally aggressive with officers as they explained again why they were there and the conditions of Blacky. The male stuck his hands in his pockets and began to blade his body, in a fighting stance. The male continued to argue with officers and eventually sat on the couch. The male was told officers would be taking his dog and he was getting a citation. He continued to argue and stated the dog had been like that for three plus months. AC began to speak and he began to yell at them. Officers decided he was going to jail and force was used to take him into custody. During the process the male kicked and hit officers multiple times. The male was later brought to VCCC and booked in. AC will be taking the dog to the vet to determine if the dog's condition. Lost Property (C), at 2500 N First Ave, Evansville, IN, on 02/04/2026, 17:00. Reported: 02/13/2026.
