I told her we did not know what she was talking about, and she began to tell me that she and the male were dating and that they had been arguing. She said he then pushed her inside the car. She did not have any injuries. She also told me he was really intoxicated and had been drinking a bottle of vodka. I then got in my patrol and went to look for the male. I located him hiding across the street behind some trees. I went around the block to get behind him and saw him walking down the street. I got out with the male and detained him. I then explained to him that the reason he was being detained was because his girlfriend said he had pushed her and also because he was intoxicated. The male stated he was arguing with his girlfriend and said nothing physical happened; he also said he was not drunk and that I was making up stuff. I then asked him if he would take a PBT test, and he agreed to. Officer M. Kavanaugh arrived on scene and gave the male a PBT test. The male blew a .238. I then told him I was arresting him for public intoxication, and he did not like that. The male began to stand up after I told him no, and when I reached to grab him, he pulled away and told me to get off him. Officer M. Kavanaugh then assisted me in getting him into my patrol car. As we were struggling to get him in the car, the male spit on the officer's face.
