Theft- Shoplifting - Prior Unrelated Conviction For Theft Or
	On May 28, 2026, an officer was dispatched to the Walmart Supercenter regarding a theft complaint. A store asset protection employee reported that a woman entered the store, selected merchandise valued at approximately $15.00, concealed it on her person, and exited without paying. The officer made contact with the individual, took her into custody, read her Miranda Warning, and she agreed to speak. She admitted to selecting and concealing the items and leaving without payment, though she denied doing so intentionally. During a search incident to arrest, the officer found in her purse a straw with residue commonly associated with narcotics use, several prescription pills of multiple types, and a pill grinder. An INSPECT report showed she had valid prescriptions, but she admitted she was not taking the medications as prescribed, and the medications were not stored in proper prescription containers. Further investigation revealed that she had been issued a permanent trespass warning from all Walmart properties during a December 23, 2025 arrest at another Walmart location, which she had acknowledged in writing. She also has multiple prior theft convictions and is currently on electronic home detention for a recent theft conviction involving another Walmart store.
